

David and Jeanne Costello have had a CTF Soaking Center in their home in the Boston area since 2003, which has touched many lives. They have come to believe that soaking is absolutely necessary in order to grow in our relationship with God. Their lives have been transformed by spending time in His presence and learning to receive from Him.

Today's culture is very much geared towards performance and "drive thru" results. Most people find it hard to wait on God "to be still and know" and listen to His heartbeat. They have had many spiritual experiences since they received a revelation & impartation of Father's love which was introduced to them mainly through Jack and Trisha Frost and James and Denise Jordan. The Costellos love to introduce people to the Rest and Peace of Father God who loves us unconditionally and longs to spend time with His children. Both David and Jeanne are artists and have received much creative revelation from soaking. They have been very involved with CTF Ministries from Toronto, Canada and continue to travel and teach at Catch the Fire Soaking events. www.ctfministries.com

THE OTHER HALF OF THE CONVERSATION

Jesus says, "Ask and you will receive". We're very good at the asking part... but how about the receiving? If we are the ones doing all the talking, it's really a one-way conversation. Soaking is the listening part of our conversation with Him. It's setting aside time to lie down and receive from Him.

Virginia Sullivent Killingsworth was adopted as an infant and grew up in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. She was involved in fundamentalist Baptist churches and ministries for troubled teens until she encountered the freedom of the Holy Spirit and the transforming power of worship. Her passion is to minister to the Lord and to train and equip others to do the same. Virginia travels extensively, leading worship, teaching and conducting workshops and seminars.

In May of 2008, Virginia married Sean Killingsworth, owner of Fusion Christian Store, and moved to Jacksonville, Florida.

Her music is available on: www.windsoffire.us

Both Sean & Virginia have a heart for compassion ministry to the nations and for displaying the beauty and true character of God to the world through worship and the arts, until the earth is "filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea." (Habakkuk 2:14)
